About us

South East Landcare (SEL) is a federation of 12 Landcare Networks, supporting a total of 350 local groups. We work across the South East corner of NSW, reaching across the border into Victoria. SEL supports individuals, families and groups working across agriculture and biodiversity. Our land uses are as vast as our region and this is reflected in our varied activities. You will find us engaged in aquaculture, dairy, cropping, endangered species, grazing, horticulture, pest control, revegetation, water quality, weed control, to name just a few.
